Dont miss out next month's

One health and the usage of antibiotics

These presentations include antibiotic resistance, substances, diagnostics, infection prevention and control.

This is nothing you've learned about in university so far?
Not a problem at all. Join our FREE Webinar on "One health and the usage of antibiotics" and grasp some insights.

If you think such topics are super relevant – we do as well! Start your career with the AniCura Graduate Programme and enrichen your theoretical knowledge from university with practical working experience as well as different courses on topics like communication, health and wellbeing but also technical topics.

Still in the middle of your studies? Also fine! We are holding webinars on a regular basis. Topics for this year are Clinical communication, Health and Wellbeing and One Health, the usage of Antibiotics.

Sign up to be up to date for all our webinars!

Amongst all participants that've registered for our webinars, we'll raffle one iPad per webinar so just visit us here to register for more information about AniCura Student Webinars and our student opportunities here:
